Lightning Destroys Barn On Roland Starner Farm Along Harrisburg Rd. Saturday Night

Fire, caused by a bolt of lightning, destroyed a large frame barn more than a century old, on the Roland W. Starner farm, Harrisburg Rd., seven and a half miles north of Gettysburg, Saturday night.

The barn was located on the east side of the highway about a quarter of a mile north of the Thomas store, and half a mile south of the Twin Bridges.

Two sheds close to the barn were also destroyed and a milk house damaged. Mr. Starner said he could make no estimate of the loss.

The farm was known as the old Boyer place, and was purchased by Mr. Starner about 14 years ago.

Lightning followed wires into the barn on the west side of the road and put the telephone out of use. A neighbor saw the barn fire and telephoned the Gettysburg Fire Department.

Had Insurance

Three trucks responded from the fire engine house. The Mack truck, enroute home from the Lancaster County Firemen's Convention parade at Quarryville, heard of the fire over its short wave radio, and turned off the Lincoln Highway east of Gettysburg to the Harrisburg Rd. and to the fire. It was second truck on the scene.

Firemen remained at the scene until 4 a.m., when the wind shifted and it began to rain. They were recalled early Sunday afternoon to (Continued on Page 9)

TWO ARE GIVEN TERMS IN JAIL BY COURT TODAY

Victor L. Smith, Gettysburg R. 2, was sentenced by the Adams County Court this morning to from 11 to 23 months on two forgery and one "bad check" charges.

He was given the same sentence on each of the three charges, with all to run concurrently from April 22, the date of his original incarceration. No parole will be considered, the court said, unless restitution is made totalling $121, the amount of the checks.

Earl C. Hess, Gardners R. 2, was sentenced at the same time to one year in jail on a charge of assault and battery. He was told a parole would be considered at the end of six months of the sentence, which begins with his original incarceration on February 4. Both Smith and Hess were directed to pay the costs.

Seven Honorary Degrees Are Conferred Sunday By College; 212 Seniors Given Diplomas

"You are here to enrich the world and you impoverish yourself if you forget the errand," was the theme of the Commencement address delivered to the Class of 1953 of Gettysburg College Sunday afternoon by William W. Tomlinson, vice president of Temple University.

In addition to the 212 graduates who received the Bachelor of Arts degree, seven candidates were granted honorary degrees by the college. They were Rev. William Roy Hashinger, Morgantown, W. Va.; Rev. Henry W. Sternat, Biglerville, Pa.; and Rev. Aberly Nathaniel Gopal, Madras Province, Guntur, India, all of whom received the Doctor of Divinity degree. The degree of Doctor of Letters was conferred on Dr. Stewart H. Smith, president of Marshall College; Robert W. Abbott, New York City, received the Doctor of Science degree and H. Sherman Oberly, president of Roanoke College, and McClean Stock, York, were recipients of the Doctor of Laws degree.

Dr. Walter C. Langsam, president of Gettysburg College, saluted the graduates in his diploma presentation talk, and encouraged them to "successfully apply both the knowledge and the eternal truths which your faculty sought to impart to you."

Nation Chosen By Destiny

"As the products of a Christian higher education, may you prosper and ever grow in faith in this restless but fascinating and exciting world in which we live," he concluded. "May you return often and happily to the friendly campus of your Alma Mater, who now wishes you a heartfelt and blessed Godspeed."

Mr. Tomlinson detailed the friendly relations which for years have existed between himself, Temple University and Gettysburg College and continued:

"This has been called the American era of history. Certain it is that destiny has chosen this nation as the leader of the free world. It is imperative, therefore, that we give sober thought to the direction and the likely consequences of our leadership," Mr. Tomlinson said. "For make no mistake about it, such are the concerns in the minds of our friends across the Atlantic. May I report to you, out of frequent European contacts, that many earnest citizens of that continent are not completely reassured by the prospects of a world shaped according to the much publicized American pattern."

Asks Some Questions

"I am proud, of course, of the part our country is playing in the defense of freedom in so many areas of the world. But it troubles me to feel that our most significant contribution to the well-being of democratic civilization seems to be so universally regarded as material."

"Perhaps we have only ourselves to blame for this. For all too often the marks of American culture we have held before the envying eyes of the world have been material. They have emphasized our boundless plenty, our physical might, and our awesome scientific capacity to destroy! Are these the true marks of this America that has become the leader of the world which so cherishes the hope of freedom and peace?"

"No wonder (the world is) asking searching questions about this America in whom they must place so much dependence. What are the values which dominate our aspirations? Do we regard life essentially as a mad scramble for things? And is our chief measure of achievement to be found in the volume of physical embellishments with which we are able to surround our lives?"

Two-Fold Purpose Of Education

"These are not my questions. They are the deep concerns of those whose destiny is bound to us by heritage and by circumstance. Thus we come to close grips with the imperative challenges of the present."

STRONG MAN OF EGYPT HAS BIG YOUTH APPEAL

CAIRO (AP) — Gen. Mohamed Naguib, on a tour of southern Egypt, was attending a reception at the swanky Winter Palace Hotel in Luxor. During the traditional welcome address, a little girl climbed on Naguib's knees, where she tranquilly gnawed a bar of chocolate.

Naguib has strong, irresistible, child appeal. There is something moving in every encounter between the strong man of Egypt and a child. The tough soldier at the little ones, his eyes twinkling with fondness. It clicks in a split second — they rush to him, nestle in his arms and offer their cheek for a kiss.

Appeals To All Classes Boys and girls, the very young and the teenagers, the fancy dressed child who hands over a bouquet, the ragged urchin standing by the side of a village road, go all out for Naguib when they see him. There is nothing like the conventional picture of the candidate for elections hugging the babies to win the parents' support. There is a current of sympathy, running two ways.

At a tea party there were several speeches. The general, his face showing the strain of these gruelling days of travelling, speeches, visits, inaugurations and triumphal ridings through thick crowds which often choked him with their enthusiasm, was listening.

Cannot Fool Children Suddenly all trace of fatigue disappeared from his face and he smiled. Two little boys, standing near his table, were staring at him. Naguib took some candies from a tray in front of him and gestured to the kids. There was everything in that gesture. Better than words it said "Come on boys, I'm your pal. I know how you feel, I know you like candies. Here, come and get them."

"Children are pure and sincere," he says. "They are spontaneous in their feelings and their actions. This is what I like in them. They have a sort of sixth sense which makes them know those who love them."

Lights flickered in Gettysburg as the Gettysburg transformer station on York St. staggered briefly in taking up the load of the Gardners line.

Mr. Dreas said there was no damage to the power line, but that breakers at Gardners went out, came back in again and then remained out until put in by hand. He said lightning probably struck lines or poles several times.

Biglerville for almost 30 minutes. Street lights were out in most of and Biglerville, Arendtsville, Aspers, Bendersville and Orrtanna were temporarily without electricity. Some of the REA lines which take power from the Metropolitan Edison at Gardners were also without service briefly.

"SMOKE RINGS"

I relax while blowing smoke rings . . . and I dream of things to be . . . and I fashion golden castles . . . in the cloudy smoke I see . . . then I think about the present . . . and my joys and sorrows too . . . but somehow they're secondary . . . while I make my smoke tattoo . . . then the past slowly approaches . . . and I'm once again a kid . . . going through the golden moments . . . doing things that I once did . . . and I find a certain comfort . . . that is like no other kind . . . when the rings of smoke encircle . . . spinning day dreams in my mind . . . real contentment I encounter . . . for a little time at least . . . and the worries of my being . . . for a while seemed to have ceased . . . so I write to tell all people . . . of the thoughts that I embrace . . . when I'm busy blowing smoke rings . . . that I ride out into space.

Names Are Not Only Similarity

ROCKY FORD, Colo. — Rev. Charles S. Mundell of Rocky Ford and his house guest, Rev. Charles S. Mundell of Los Angeles, have a lot in common besides having the same name.

Both are returned ministers, but Rev. Charles Simeon Mundell of Rocky Ford was a minister in the Methodist Church and Rev. Charles Samuel Mundell of Los Angeles was a Congregational minister.

Both are the fathers of two sons and two daughters, but the Los Angeles Mundell has forged ahead in the grandchildren department. He boasts seven, although he is younger than his Colorado colleague, who has only five.

The Rev. Mundell of Rocky Ford first started a correspondence with his Los Angeles friend when he read about Charles Samuel Mundell, who was known as the boy preacher back in the high-button shoe days. The Rev. Charles Simeon was then living in Illinois.

The Rev. Charles Samuel was born in Texas, where his father was a cowboy on the famous old XIT Ranch.

Douglas said in the commencement address that there should be a combination of culture and character in the development of a well-rounded and effective life.

"Culture is best developed in solitude, but character grows in the steam of events," he said.

Five other honorary degrees were conferred. They went to Bayard Rustin, L. Englund, Atlantic City, N. J., president Atlantic City Electric Co. director of engineering; Dr. Walter B. CHURCH GROUP MEETS TODAY

"The practical value of spiritual understanding in daily life" was the keynote as more than 7,500 Christian Scientists from throughout the world met today for the annual meeting of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

A message from The Christian Science Board of Directors told the gathering that "materialism not only is being challenged, but is yielding increasingly, to the impact of spiritual enlightenment."

Bearing witness to this were "Incidents of Christian Science healing" read at the meeting which included "total recovery from a severe case of poliomyelitis, abdominal cancer, rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart diagnosed as incurable, dislocated hips thought beyond recovery, and accident injuries pronounced fatal."

"Through prayerful living of pure Christianity," the Directors said, "painless progress can be made by the individual and by humanity as a whole."

Named president of The Mother Church for the coming year was Mrs. Grace F. Cudworth of Boston, a Christian Science practitioner active in the healing work of the denomination for almost 50 years. Her term of office is for one year.

The inseparability of Christianity and healing was emphasized by Mrs. Cudworth, who said: "The true nature of church becomes evident in our experience through our understanding and demonstration of the healing power" of pure Christianity.

CONSULTATION
Surgeon, heart specialist, eye man and ear
All gathered about.
"Smoke?" I said: "Yes," and the three said: "Oh, dear! That you'll cut out."

"Read?" said the eye man. I nodded my head.
And sad were his looks
As he put down his flashlight and solemnly said:
"For you, no more books."

"Eat?" and I answered: "Just three times a day."
They shuddered at that.
"You must do without food," I heard one of them say.
"You are getting too fat."

"Since 'give up' appears the unanimous thought
Of you very wise men,"
I said, "One more habit which tell of I ought:
I breathe now and then."

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

LEARN ABOUT THAT MUST

We are great in the things we feel we must do. The boy who is born with a desire to draw must draw. There is no other way. Put him at anything else and he shirks, he wilts away in spirit.

A man is never really happy until he has found his work — his work — his niche. Therein he becomes both master and ruler. What a loss to all humanity had the parents of Edison insisted upon him becoming a lawyer, or a doctor, or an engineer! Many a benefactor to the human race has been lost to it because of foolish diversion of talent and desire.

Much has been written about luck. Luck is to have found the thing to do that you love to do! Luck isn't accident. The lucky man is the one who has discovered his genius. Not the one who has discovered a gold mine, or who has suddenly come into great wealth because of chance.

There is a great deal of floundering in life. But the one with a must in his heart and mind is the one who will eventually stand out from the crowd and be a somebody body.

Often this must comes late in life. But it is never too late to answer the call of circumstance. De Morgan wrote his first successful novel after he had passed the age of 50. Seymour Haden was a successful London physician, but his great must got the better of his practice — and after he had passed middle life he began to etch — and became one of the greatest of modern landscape etchers.

Elihu Burritt was just an ordinary blacksmith, but the most in him drove him to the study of languages. He then became the master of 30 or more and went down in history as "the learned blacksmith."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Don't Be a Doubter."

Says Battle Of Gettysburg Has Military Significance To Armed Forces Of Nation

"The name Gettysburg has immediate military significance to us in the Armed Forces for as most of you know the great decisive battle fought in and around this town has a profound effect on the history of our nation," declared Brig. Gen. Verdi B. Barnes, Deputy Commander of the Army War College, Washington, D. C., at Commissioning exercises for 64 senior ROTC students of the Army and Air Force at Gettysburg College Sunday morning. (Names of recipients of Commissions are published on Page Seven.)

"It was the turning point of our country's battle for unification and stature as a world power. Today we have assumed the world leadership, some 90 years after the Battle of Gettysburg.

"Realizing these facts, let us look for a moment why we are here this morning. We are here to receive 64 new officers into the profession of arms. A few of you will assume an active status as Regular Officers. The majority of you, however, will go into a civilian vocation until such time as your country needs your service. To me, this is a significant thing. This is the basis of our country's defense system. Here we have a small minority who have chosen the military as a profession. They will be integrated into the professional core of the Army and Air Force. The majority will likely pursue more peaceful endeavors. But at the first emergency, they are ready to expand a technically well-trained nucleus into a giant force available to defeat the enemies of democracy.

"Standing before this group of new officers, I am gratified to be a witness at this degree of patriotism. By virtue of the expenditure of your time and effort in the past four years, I know that the receipt of your commission represents a sincere, tangible beginning in making a contribution to preserving our unexcelled way of life. It is the proper response to the acceptance of responsibility and one which you will never regret.

"I should warn you that it is a great adventure and challenge to serve on active duty with the Armed Forces of the United States. One that will require a definite devotion to duty and your utmost efforts. You may soon be leading other young American men in combat—men and boys who will look to you for decisions that may mean their very lives. You will get duties that will tax your ingenuity and your courage, jobs that you will feel are almost beyond your utmost physical endurance or responsibilities that appear very great to bear. Regardless of the difficulties encountered, you must retain the highest standards and you must be a real example to those whom you lead. This alone will make your task easier.

Free World Looks To U. S.
And presently, the aspirations and hopes of the free world rest largely on the United States and how we play our part in the current crisis. From the unrealized shaping of events at Peach Orchard, Devil's Den and Cemetery Ridge, our great country was re-united. I can think of no more fitting place or more inspirational location for this ceremony. What an unusual opportunity you men have enjoyed: to have pursued your education, initiated your military experience and to receive your commission here on the site of the greatest battle fought on this continent.

"You may be wondering why I drew an analogy between the historic battle fought on the soil here and your commissioning exercises here this morning. Also, perhaps you may have wondered that in this talk of age of atomic warfare, guided missiles and quasi-push-button warfare, what practical application can be made of our tested principles for the conduct of any great struggle. You may even have said to yourself, that many of things you have recently learned are apt to be obsolete. Mankind has felt this subservience to the machine many times through our history, and our age is no exception.

Cites Sampson's Feat
"If you please, remember an individual named Sampson who took the most deadly and horrible weapon of his day and slew one thousand Philistines. People then easily realized that it was not the simple weapon used that slew the thousand, but in reality, Sampson, the man. Throughout the ages, as improvement in weapons has progressed we have constantly found the basic fundamentals sound of competent leadership following the basic principles of warfare. And it has been constantly proven that it is not the

Had Bibles In Cars Of Old Railroads

ST. ALBANS, Vt. (AP) — Old time trains in Vermont used to have brass Bible holders in each of the cars. Older residents remember when they had Bibles in the. Al Sauviat, railroad historian, has unearthed some of the old brass holders, but for a time he was stumped to explain why Bibles were considered necessary in railroad cars. Now he thinks he knows why.

In 1888 the legislature of Vermont passed a law permitting Sunday trains in Vermont. It authorized "Running on a railroad of such through trains on Sunday as, in the opinion of the Board, the public necessity and convenience may require, having regard to the due observance of the day." Suaviat thinks Vermont railroaders provided for "due observance of the day" by making the Bibles available.

Second Place Indians To Face Yankees In Four-Game Series; Both Win Doubleheader Sunday

By ED CORRIGAN

The American League is beginning to level off and as the New York Yankees today took a casual glance behind, who was galloping along in second place but their old friends, the Cleveland Indians?

First the Chicago White Sox constituted the big challenge. Then the Washington Senators made threatening gestures. Even the Boston Red Sox were considered.

All found their level, and that left only the Tribe to prevent the Yanks from walking away with the pennant.

Fall Down In Stretch

The only trouble with the Indians is that they have an alarming tendency to fold in the stretch and play dead when they go up against the Yanks. In 1951, for example, the Yanks won 15 and lost only seven to the Indians.

Last year, Cleveland made a better fight of it and the Bronx Bombers' margin was only 12-10. So far this season, the Yanks have won three and lost none against the Indians, who still are 5½ games off the pace.

The Indians will have a good opportunity to make up some ground this week end when they invade Yankee Stadium for a four-game set. Conversely, it will provide the Yanks with a good opportunity to all but sew up the pennant.

Manager Al Lopez of Cleveland can see one bright ray through the clouds. He probably will have Bob Feller, who until yesterday had not won a game in more than a month, available. If Feller can start winning, the Indians have a chance.

Feller pitched a nice six-hitter yesterday in the opener of a double-header against Philadelphia. The Indians won it, 8-4, by scoring five runs in the fourth inning, then went on to take the nightcap, 4-3, with Early Wynn, Dave Hoskins and Bob Lemon handling the mound chores.

But the two victories netted the Indians exactly nothing because the Yanks also won a double-header from the St. Louis Browns, 9-2 and 7-2. The second game triumph was the Yanks' 11th in a row and marked their longest winning streak under Casey Stengel.

The Senators and the White Sox, who are in the midst of a battle for third place, split a double-header. The Nats expanded all their power in the first game and piled up a 16-2 margin to enable Bob Porterfield to coast to the victory. But in the nightcap, Harry Dorish posted a 5-1 triumph for Paul Richards' crew.

The Detroit Tigers, as usual, lost. The Red Sox beat them, 4-1. Skinny Brown went the distance for the winners and helped his own cause with a home run.

In the National League, the Milwaukee Braves and the Brooklyn Dodgers continued their neck-and-neck battle for first place, and today it is the Braves' turn to occupy the top rung. They won two games from the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-0, and 5-3. The Brooks took a single game, swamping the St. Louis Cardinals, 10-1.

Giants, Bucks Lose Pair
Among the second division clubs, the Chicago Cubs won two from the New York Giants, 10-5 and 5-3, and the Cincinnati Redlegs took a pair from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-1 and 11-6.

The Cubs broke a six-game losing streak with their first victory over the Giants. It also marked the first time the Bruins have beaten the Giants this year.

Betsy Rawls Keeps Open Golf Crown

READING, Pa. (AP)—The Eastern Women's Open golf crown is still the proud possession today of still Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C.

The southern lass retained her championship by virtue of a six-foot putt in a sudden-death playoff with Patty Berg at the Berkshire Country Club yesterday.

The Spartanburg lass collected the winners' check of $1,250, and Miss Berg picked up $900.

Third place honors—and $1,250—were shared by Betty Jamieson of San Antonio, Tex., and Beverly Hanson of Indio, Calif., winner of the Eastern Open title here two years ago. They finished with 299s.

Betty Fehl of Reading finished with a 72-hole total of 326 to pace the amateur contingent for the second straight year.

Skip Fiscel Will Drill With Pirates

Marlin "Skip" Fiscel went to Pittsburgh today where he will engage in a workout with the Pittsburgh Pirates on Tuesday.

Fiscel, former Gettysburg High hurler, was invited by a Pirate scout to take part in one of the routine workouts for promising ball players conducted at Forbes Field.

STEVE KRALY WINS HIS 10TH

(By The Associated Press)
Binghamton's Steve Kraly, who hasn't lost a game in three years, boasts 10 victories in the Eastern League.

The stingy lefthander missed his fourth straight shutout yesterday. His string was snapped at 27 innings when Schenectady scored a run in the first inning, but he blanked the Blue Jays the rest of the way for a 2-1 victory.

The victory kept the Triplets a game ahead of the Reading Indians, who beat Scranton 2-1, and 6-1.

In other games yesterday, Williamsport split with Wilkes-Barre, taking the first game, 4-1, and dropping the second, 8-1, and Elmira defeated Albany, 4-1.

Kraly joined the Triplets after two years in the Army, where he had a 28-0 record against service competition. So far this year he has hurled six shutouts—in two strings of three. His stretch of 27 scoreless innings was ended, when Skeeter Newsome scored on a walk, a stolen base and two infield outs.

NEW LEAGUE IS PROPOSED

FREDERICK, Md. (AP)—Plans are moving ahead for a new baseball league involving Maryland and Pennsylvania teams.

At a meeting here yesterday, a representative who attended said Oren Sterling of Sunbury, Pa., and John Vickers of Salisbury, Md., were named to try to line up additional teams for the proposed new minor circuit, to be known as the Mason-Dixon League.

The representative said four clubs—Sunbury, Pa., and Salisbury and Cambridge, Md., and a proposed combination of Lancaster-Allentown, Pa.—are about set to go if other clubs can be found.

Others said to be definitely interested were Chambersburg, Pa., and Frederick.

Sterling, who presided at the session, and Vickers are to contact a number of cities in the immediate Maryland-Pennsylvania area in an effort to line up at least four more teams.

The group is to meet again next month, the date and place to be set later. Attending the session were persons from Sunbury, Salisbury, Lancaster, Allentown, Chambersburg and Frederick.

HOGAN'S LEGS BIG QUESTION IN 53RD OPEN

By WILL GRIMSLEY

PITTSBURGH (AP)—They start playing for keeps in the 53rd National Open golf tournament tomorrow, and the big question is: can Ben Hogan's legs stand up under the pounding of 108 holes over two of the toughest courses in the world?

Since his near-fatal automobile accident in 1949, the little Texan hasn't subjected his legs to the punishment they'll have to undergo in the next five days.

The first two rounds tomorrow and Wednesday will be devoted to qualifying in which a field of 299 will be chopped to 149 challengers for the crown now held by Julius Boros.

Half At Oakmont

Starting at 7 a. m. (EST), half the field will tackle Oakmont, the heavyweight of all golf courses, while the other half will take out over the neighboring Pittsburgh Field Club. Players will change sites on Wednesday, with the low 149 scores for the two rounds surviving for the 72-hole championship proper Thursday through Saturday at Oakmont.

Oakmont is 6,916 yards of sawtooth traps, massive greens and treacherous rough which has defied the masters of the sport down through the years. No one has ever broken par for 72 holes. The field club is just as tough—a "souped up" layout of 6,712 yards with taxing hills and snug, almost invisible fairways. Oakmont is par 72, the Field Club par 71.

Hogan begins his qualifying test, a new wrinkle for open play, at 12:20 p. m. (EST) at Oakmont. His partners are George Fazio of Clementon, N. J., whom he beat in a playoff for the 1950 title at Merion, and Al Mengert, one of the more promising of the new young pros.

The grim and silent hawk—as Hogan is known to his adversaries—is tired. He says so. His game, lacking some of its oldtime sharpness, looks it. But he is still, the favorite because he remains the coldest and most calculating thinker on the fairways today.

Baseball is Springfield Thesis Theme

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—At the graduate school here at Springfield College, baseball is a major work for student thesis.

It all started a few years ago when Branch Rickey, now general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was discussing the national pastime with Archie Allen, Springfield baseball coach, and Clayton T. Shay, assistant director of graduate study.

The students are attempting to determine the effect of the strength of leg muscles on the speed of the pitched ball as well as the relationship of reaction time to the hitting of the ball.

An automatic pitching machine loaned to the college by the University of Massachusetts is being used. This part of the study program tries to determine whether wrist flexion, use of the shoulder muscles in throwing the ball, and length of arm motion are most important in judging the speed and proper batting of the ball.

Tested By Machine
The machine is gauged to throw the ball between 60 and 80 miles per hour. Compressed air shoots the ball out of the machine and 11 of the 15 pitches go through a 17-inch rectangular batting zone.

Each player participating in the study does hits 24-minutes over a period of three weeks. As the player swings at each pitched ball his reaction time is noted by the testers and is tabulated on a master sheet which is later compiled and analyzed.

Two groups of students are working on the test to discover if the speed of the ball is increased as a consequence of increased leg strength.

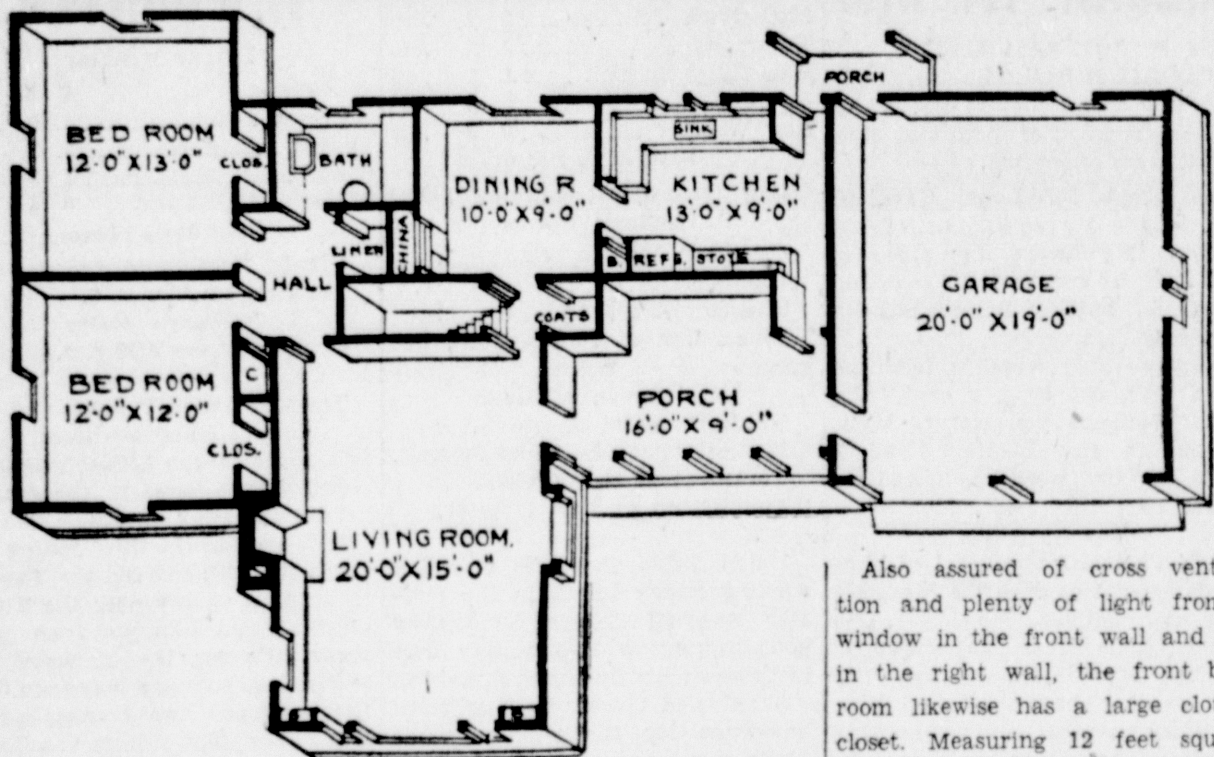

One set of players takes heavy resistance leg exercises. The other set doesn't.

To date no final results have been reported.

ROOKIES HIT GRAND SLAMS

One of the most attractive features of "The Youngsville" is the spacious front porch which measures 16' x 9' and can be glassed or screened in if desired. From this large porch you can go directly into the living room, through the door in the left wall, and into the kitchen, through the door in the back wall. Measuring 20 x 15 feet, the living room is the largest room in "The Youngsville" and is destined to be the family's entertainment center where friends and relatives can gather. The large built-in fireplace in the center of the left wall adds both a decorative and friendly note to the room. It will prove itself practical, too, during chilly weather when the basement heater has been shut off. In the front wall of the living room, the large picture window, flanked by basement windows, brings a further decorative touch to the room, and serves the practical purpose of providing plenty of light and additional ventilation.

Further light and air are provided for the living room by the large window in the left wall and the equally large window in the right wall. A door in the right end of the back wall leads to a small hallway containing a large coat closet in the right wall — a closet that is ideally situated for the storage of guests' wraps and the family's stormy weather apparel. A stairway in the left wall of this hallway leads to the basement.

Another doorway, in the left end of the back wall, opens on the central hall that leads to the bath and the two bedrooms. The large all-modern bath contains a tub and a shower and is well-lighted by a window in the back wall. Opposite the door to the back bedroom, against the right wall of this hallway, is the large linen closet.

Large Closet
The larger of the two bedrooms, intended to be used as the master bedroom, measures 12' x 13'. Assured of adequate light and good cross ventilation from the window in the back wall and the other window in the left wall of the room, this bedroom has a large clothes closet in its right wall.

Also assured of cross ventilation and plenty of light from a window in the front wall and one in the right wall, the front bedroom likewise has a large clothes closet. Measuring 12 feet square, this room could easily accommodate twin beds; the long back wall could be used for the installation of bunk beds.

The extra closet, opening on the central hall, just to the left of the door to this front bedroom, will come in handy for an assortment of storage uses.

Measuring 10' x 9', the dining room is separated from the living room by the previously mentioned small hall. The one large window, in the back wall, provides light and ventilation for the room. Place your dining room set where you can reap the advantage of the light, air and view from this window.

A door in the right wall of the dining room leads to the well-planned modern kitchen — thus you won't have any extra steps to take when serving a family meal or special dinner in the dining room. Long and narrow, the kitchen is 13' x 9' in dimensions.

The sink is placed under the double windows in the back wall, the logical and best location. Working counters, complete with cabinets and cupboards, are placed on either side of the sink and the L arrangement terminates along the left wall.

Against the opposite kitchen wall are arrayed the broom closet, refrigerator, stove and an extra working counter, in that order. A

Things Of The Soil

NOTES ON SWEET POTATOES

Well rooted sweet potato plants should be set out within the next week to ten days. Soil should be prepared at least a few days in advance of transplanting time.

Three points should be stressed in buying plants. First, they should contain a mass of fibrous roots. Next, the roots should be uniformly clean and white. And third, they should be bought from a source that insures them to be the variety desired.

The reason why emphasis is placed on clean, white roots is to avoid stem rot, a fungous disease that is common wherever sweet potatoes are grown. One of the dew ways by which this disease can be detected in bed plants is by the discoloration that early occurs in the roots.

Sweet potatoes thrive on a wide range of soil types from light sandy loams to mellow clay loams, but in all cases the site must be well drained. Three types of soil should be avoided: (1) Shallow or hard soils; (2) Soils lacking fertility; and (3) Very rich loams.

If soils are too rich the plants waste most of their strength in producing heavy vines at the expense of tubers. Of course, this fact should never lead to the other extreme — under-fertility.

Well rotted manure should be turned under deeply. In the absence of this well decomposed compost is beneficial. A green manure crop turned under the previous year improves most loams for sweet potatoes.

To avoid newly set plant roots coming into contact with insoluble masses of commercial fertilizer, it is perhaps advisable to apply fertilizers as two or three side dressings before vines begin to run. An analysis 2-8-10 is recommended, worked into the soil along the ridges 3 to 5 inches from the plants at a rate that will allow a total of 400 to 800 pounds for the season per acre.

Do not buy wilted, drooping plants. The "slips" should be dropped directly into a basin of water after they are taken from the bed or wrapped immediately in wet burlap. To avoid drying door in the right section of the back wall leads to the back porch and the back yard.

This back porch also provides protected entrance to the two-car garage. Measuring 20' x 19', this garage has double windows in the right wall and another window in the back wall.

Tomatoes On Fence Yield Most Food For Space Used

Remove all branches growing where leaves join the main stem of stalked tomatoes.

Tomato plants pruned to a single stem and supported on stakes, picket fences or trellis can give a larger yield per square foot of space occupied than any other vegetable.

They deserve a gardener's best care, and this should begin by planting them properly after all danger of frost is over. Do not let high temperatures before frost has ended roots it is a sound idea to dip the roots in puddled clay loam or a mixture of puddled clay loam and dry weathered cattle manure. Then if they are kept moist until transplanted, few losses or little wilting will occur.

Ridges are employed mainly to insure freedom from standing water. Too, ridges permit easy digging. In all cases the soil should be pulverized and mellow to a depth of at least 7 to 8 inches.

Spacing 14 to 18 inches in the ridge with ridges 28 to 30 inches apart is adequate. Varieties like the Southern Queen and Porto Rico, which vine heavily, need the maximum room.

The hole should be large enough to accommodate the roots without doubling them up or otherwise crowding. Fill partly with soil and then water. Press remainder of soil firmly around the plant.

Yellowing and wilting are signs of stem rot. Cut a large root crosswise as a final test. Stem rot is seen as a black ring in the discolored tissue. Pull and burn affected plants.

Move sweet potatoes to clean soils every year to reduce both stem rot and black rot dangers. Rarely do any insects bother this vegetable except in the deep South where a weevil is troublesome.

A small kitchen saw is inexpensive and handy to have. It cuts tough ham bones easily, divides packages of frozen food, and disjoints poultry for frying.

If you buy an aluminum sink strainer, make sure it's the stain-resisting type.

around a stout cord, which is tied at top and bottom. In tying a plant to its support, use a strip of cloth or a large, soft cord which will not cut, looped loosely around the stem.

Plants may be pruned with two stems, in which case set them 21 inches apart. Select one side branch starting 10 inches above the surface and allow it to grow as the second stem, pruning off all its side branches.

Pruning requires regular attention. The plant starts with a central stem or leader. When the first blossoms appear, at each joint made by a leaf with the stem, a branch begins to grow. To prune the plant, these side shoots are removed before they are four inches long.

No other leaves should be pruned from tomato plants; and so-called determinate varieties should not be staked and pruned. Fruits need the shade furnished by leaves to avoid sunburn. To make the first blossoms set fruit, spray them with a hormone sold for that purpose.

Tomato roots spread widely just below the soil surface so cultivation should never be deep enough to disturb them. An abundant supply of water is required, and lack of it causes decayed spots on the fruit opposite the stem, called blossom-end rot. Moisture is conserved by applying a mulch of lawn clippings six inches thick all along the tomato row.

If you are a smoker, wash your hands thoroughly before handling tomato plants, and do not touch tobacco until your work with them is finished.

Tobacco may have a disease which can be transmitted to the tomato plants. The same precautions should be taken whether fruit is picked, or any work is done with the tomatoes. These two plants are distant relatives, and not only share the same disease but are attacked by the same kind of worm, a green horn monster, which fortunately is easily seen, and killed before he can do much damage.

Class Reunions

presented to "Sonny" Keefer. The Rev. S. T. Nicholas, class of 1890, was the principal speaker.

1897

Of the 25 members who formed the original graduating class, 15 members are still living. Atty. Robin B. Wolf, Pittsburgh, was re-elected president and Atty. George A. Kain, York, was named secretary. The class meets every year.

Those present for the 1953 reunion, in addition to Mr. Wolf and Mr. Kain, were Dr. A. J. White Hutton, Chambersburg, professor of law at Dickinson College; Robert B. McClean, Washington, D. C.; Harry E. Olive, Hazleton, and the Rev. Dr. Lewis C. Menges, Harrisburg, retired Lutheran pastor.

The Class of 1900 held its reunion banquet Saturday night at the Hotel Gettysburg, with 11 in attendance, seven members of the class and four guests, wives of members.

Officers are: Judge McClean Stock, York, president; the Rev. Homer N. Young, Gettysburg, secretary; the Rev. Dr. William J. Miller Jr., class representative, and Dr. Frank T. Cole, Mobile, Ala., treasurer. Other members of the class present were the Rev. John I. Hummer, Reading; Roy C. Dougherty, Reading, and Jesse S. Koeler, York.

1903

Maurice H. Floto, Pittsburgh, was re-elected president and secretary of the Class of 1903 which held its 50th anniversary reunion at the Hotel Gettysburg, with a reunion breakfast Saturday morning.

Seven of the original graduates were in attendance at the affair, among them, Edward B. Hay of Rochester, N. Y., whose grandfather, Charles A. Hay, graduated at the college in 1842.

Additional subscriptions were made for the fund established in 1948 in memory of the late Rev. George S. Rentz, brother of Mrs. Hay and a chaplain in the Battle of Java Straits, while serving aboard the USS Houston. The next reunion of the class is scheduled in 1958.

Roy E. (Pat) Smith, who was president of his class when it graduated at Gettysburg College in 1908, and has been class president each year since that time, was re-elected at the 45th reunion of the class Saturday night at the Hotel Gettysburg. Twenty-four members attended the affair.

Robert Michael, Scranton, was named vice president; Mrs. John Zinn, Gettysburg, class agent, and Forrest Mercer, Camp Hill, representative to the Alumni Council.

1906, '07, '09, '10, '11, '12

The classes 1906 to 1912 which did not have an official five-year reunion had dinner at the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity house on N. Washington St. Saturday evening with 20 present.

Dr. Harry F. Baughman, president of the Lutheran Theological Seminary here, was selected to have charge of the reunion of the "off-year" classes in 1954. S. F. Snyder, W. Stevens St., was in charge of this year's reunion.

Mrs. S. Kenderton Lynch, Gettysburg, permanent president of the Class of 1917, presided at the business meeting which followed the class reunion dinner at the Hotel Gettysburg Saturday night, with 18 present, ten of them members of the class.

Other officers of the class are: Lawrence Rost, Lancaster, vice president; the Rev. Charles Venable, Harrisburg, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Baker, secretary; Charles Diller, Hanover, co-convenor and class representative.

Guests included Mrs. Luther Slifer and daughter, Mary, and H. D. Mehring, Class of 1889. Mrs. Slifer's husband is a member of the class, and Mr. Mehring's son is also a member. Dr. and Mrs. Slifer, missionaries, returned recently from Liberia, and Miss Mary Slifer from missionary work in India. Eleven members of the class attended the reunion.

Lewis K. Shaeffer, Harrisburg, was re-elected president of the Class of 1918, which held its reunion at the Shetter House Saturday night. He presided at the business session. Other officers are: Malcolm Laird, secretary; Harry Saul, secretary; Lawson Motter, treasurer; Max Floto, representative to the Alumni Council, and Seibert Eberly, representative to the loyalty fund.

Thirty-two members and 28 guests attended the reunion. The class held a preliminary meeting at the college and voted to present $2,650 to be invested by the college, the income to be used to assist deserving students. A permanent committee was appointed to receive additional contributions each year. The class won the cup presented for the highest contribution to the loyalty fund.

Members of the Endowment Fund Committee include Malcolm Laird, chairman; Harry Saul, Lewis Sheaffer and Lawson Motter.

Thirty years ago "Jimmy" Matsusita, a young Japanese student, was a well-known member of the graduating class at Gettysburg College.

Saturday, the members of his class (1923), meeting at the Mt. Joy Parish House for the regular five year reunion, voted to establish a fund so "Jimmy's" son, Niechi Matsusita, can attend Gettysburg College as his father did.

The young man will be ready to enter college in March, 1954. Under the plans made by the 66 members present at the meeting, he will be brought from Japan to the United States and will live at the home of Fred P. Haehnlen, 320 N. Stratton St., while attending college here. Haehnlen is secretary-treasurer of the class.

Father Opposed War

Charles R. Wolfe, E. Lincoln Ave., registrar at the college and president of the Class of 1923, explained that the fortunes of fellow class member Matsusita were wiped out during World War II. Matsusita, who has been unable to return to Gettysburg for a reunion since he left the college, did his utmost as a private citizen to prevent Japan's entry into World War II and as a result finally had to flee into hiding to save his life. After the war he returned to work and public activities and is now with a mining concern in Japan as a public relations employee.

The class re-elected all of its officers with Wolfe as president and class agent, Judge W. C. Sheely, vice president and representative to the alumni council and Haehnlen as secretary-treasurer.

President Wolfe said the class plans to raise a large enough sum so that after it provides for the education of the young Japanese the principal can be used to help other deserving youth obtain an education at the college here.

Raymond Scott "Jeff" Davis, editor of the Crowe, (Va.) Chronicle, was re-elected president of the class of 1928 at its reunion held Saturday evening at the Gettysburg Country Club.

Dr. Lewis Clarence Menges Jr., Cynwyd, was named vice president; Mrs. Mary Rife Maxwell, Camp Hill, secretary-treasurer; Glenn L. Bream, Gettysburg, representative to the alumni council, and E. Stuart Philbert, Auburn, class agent.

Dr. Bruce N. Wolff and Mersby Little were named as a committee to arrange for a class gift to be presented to the college this year. The class noted that two members of its group, Rev. Ralph Tabor and Paul Rhodes, have been elected trustees of the college. Ninety-nine members and guests attended the reunion.

More than 100 members and guests of the Class of 1933 attended the class reunion at the Hotel Gettysburg Saturday night. The number included six of seven women who were the last to graduate before co-education was abandoned for several years at the college. The six attending the reunion were Miss Jean Thomas, Biglerville; Mrs. Raymond P. Sheely, Gettysburg; Miss Miriam Waltemyer, New York City; Mrs. Frederick Eckert, Cumberland, Md.; Mrs. Lester Johnson and Mrs. Charles A. Sloat, Gettysburg. Mrs. Knute Sahle, York, the seventh member, was unable to be present.

Officers elected were: President, Atty. Daniel E. Teeter, Gettysburg; vice president, Donald Enders, Camp Hill; secretary, Mrs. Sloat; treasurer, Ralph Barley, Gettysburg; Alumni Council representative, Frank Myers, Milton, Pa.; class agent, John Gouker, Philadelphia; loyalty fund committee, Herbert Schroeder, Cato, N. Y.; Charles Eby, Harrisburg, and Dr. Raymond F. Sheely, Gettysburg.

The class voted a contribution of $600 to the Loyalty Fund, which includes $100 for the tree fund to beautify the campus, under the direction of Mrs. Walter C. Langsam, wife of the college president.

Dr. Thomas L. Cline, former head of the English Department at the college, and now head of the Lutheran Board of Pensions, Philadelphia, was the principal speaker. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. C. Paul Cessna, Dr. Richard A. Arms, Dr. and Mrs. William C. Waltemyer, Dr. and Mrs. John B. Zinn and Dr. and Mrs. Langsam.

Of the 87 members of the class, 69 were present for the reunion. Members of the class were entertained at a reception Saturday afternoon at the home of Atty. Daniel E. Mehring, Class of 1889. Mrs. Slifer's husband is a member of the class, and Mr. Mehring's son is also a member. Dr. and Mrs. Slifer, missionaries, returned recently from Liberia, and Miss Mary Slifer from missionary work in India. Eleven members of the class attended the reunion.

William E. McClure, Harrisburg, was elected president of the class of 1938 at the reunion held Saturday evening at Trinity Evangelical Reformed Church. Mrs. Martha Herman Chronister, Harrisburg, was named vice president; William Phelps, Gettysburg, secretary-treasurer; Richard Drees, Gettysburg, representative to the alumni council, and Emma Smyser Hubsch, Merion, Pa., class agent.

Thirty-one members and guests attended the reunion. Dr. Walter Langsam, president of the college, spoke briefly as did Mrs. Langsam.

Rev. Robert Koons, Sunbury, was elected president of the class of 1943 at its reunion held Saturday evening at St. James Lutheran Church. Other Officers named included Mrs. Betty Hite Parks, Ravenna, Ohio, secretary; Frank Herjda, Park Forest, Ill., treasurer; David C. Houck, Ardentsville, representative to the alumni council, and Robert Brent, State College, Miss., class agent.

Sixty-one members and guests were present for the reunion with Richard Debus, business manager of the Crowe, as a guest. Dean Robert Fryling gave a history of What responsibility does education bear to the solution of man's modern predicament?" he asked.

Dean Christian Gauss of Princeton University once described the purposes of education as being two-fold. First, he said, education should enable the individual to get the most out of life for himself. Then, secondly, it should prepare him to make the greatest possible contribution to his world and to his time.

"Certainly the individual must be prepared to make the most of the life and powers that are within his keeping. Then he must be encouraged to bring this life and these powers to bear creatively on the whole environment in which he moves."

Essence of Christian Heritage

With understanding, we as Americans will come to recognize that in this day of greatness it is not our mission to Americanize the world. It is rather for us to help preserve and strengthen those varied cultures that give to the world its interest, its beauty, and its richness.

"But understanding alone is not enough. If we pursue it to its ultimate end, understanding brings us to the realization that there is one precious universal in this world of men. It is the Fatherhood of a common God who made us all — black, white and yellow. . . . Moslem, Jew and Christian. The oneness of mankind stems from this Fatherhood — and that to us should be the boundless source of human sympathy. If we reject this God, as cynics would have us do, we cast aside the one great source of hope for all mankind. This, it seems to me, is the very essence of our Christian heritage."

"The march of scientific and material progress will continue. We shall move forward on these fronts with strides that would stagger the imagination. That is as it should be. In the realms of transportation, communication, and in all those things which go to make life a healthier, happier and richer experience, exciting new developments are inevitable as the sunrise."

No Place For Pagan Concept
"But with the sun that rises tomorrow, there will also rise the challenge that men be masters of their fate; that science and technology be the servants and not the threatening overlords of men. In the eternal scheme there is no place for the pagan concept that machines are more important than men, or that in this world the human being counts for no more than a particle of dust driven by the winds of chance."

Mr. Tomlinson related the story of the astronomer who, after announcing his world shaking discovery commented, with all the finality of a sage, "Astronomically speaking, man is negligible."

"But in arriving at his conclusion the scientist had overlooked the supreme quality that distinguishes man from every other being, and it remained for a theologian to put his finger on that attribute," Mr. Tomlinson added. "In doing so he quoted verbatim all but the last of the astronomer's own words. 'Astronomically speaking,' said the theologian, 'man is the astronomer.'"

Knowledge Not Enough
"There are two points to this story neither of which will be lost to us. The first one makes it abundantly clear that only as man is the complete master of the wondrous devices he has created to become his rewarding and enriching servants."

"And the second is the revelation of the majesty, the unbelievable capacity and power, of one single individual. It one man can so enlighten the world think how much the moral force of a devoted company of men can add to a happier lot for all mankind."

"It is not enough, therefore, to spend our days acquiring knowledge, only to feed the material cynicism of these times. There is a larger end in store for those who are prepared to grasp it. It is the destiny of the dedicated mind and the unconquerable soul."

Vanguard Of Unconquerables
"It requires wisdom, faith and a stout heart to be such a champion of humanity in the face of all the giant forces arrayed against it. But if man does not himself save man, who shall? Who, that is, but the college during the past ten years."

Robert Janke, Wilmington, Del., was elected president of the class of 1948 at its first reunion, held Saturday evening at Trinity Evangelical Reformed Church.

Kirk Means, also of Wilmington, was named vice president. Miss C. Betty Edwards, Lancaster, was elected secretary-treasurer; Richard Snyder, Columbia, representative to the alumni council, and David Babylon, Westminster, class agent.

Forty members of the class and 17 guests were present for the reunion at which Dr. and Mrs. Walter C. Langsam spoke briefly. The class voted to hold annual reunions starting next year, if arrangements can be completed by the executive committee, comprising the officers.

his God of mercy? You, the graduates of 1953, I am convinced, are the vanguard of an Unconquerable Generation ready to face the future with valor and determined purpose. To you I commend these familiar lines written by Hamilton Bruce:

"Out of the night that covers me,
Black as the Pit from pole to pole
I thank whatever gods my be
For my unconquerable soul.""In the fell clutch of circumstance
I have not winced nor cried
Under the bluegoggles of chance
My head is bloody, but unbowed.""Beyond the place of wrath and tears
Looms but the Horror of the shade
And yet the menace of the years
Finds, and shall find, me unafraid.""It matters not how straight the gate,
How charged with punishment
The scroll,
I am the master of my fate;
I am the captain of my soul."

"Now I dare to leave you with this challenge: Do not forget, as you pass from these classic places, you go forth to bring new wisdom, faith and courage to the world . . . and you betray yourself and the heritage which is yours, if you forget the errand."

"For these are the marks of the unconquerable. I can think of no higher distinction than to be accepted as an adopted member of such a generation."

Henry M. Scharf, chairman of the Alumni Days Committee, introduced the honor classes and alumni. The oldest present included Dr. John Aberly, Class of 1888; L. D. Mehring, '89; Dr. S. T. Nicholas, '90; Dr. C. F. Sanders, '92; and G. Z. Best, '93. The class having the largest percentage of attendance was the Class of 1918 with 69 per cent; the second award, Class of 1908 with 66 per cent; and third, Class of 1933 with 57 per cent.

Dr. Stine Retires

Dr. Langsam, in his first annual report to the alumni, reviewed the decisions of the Board of Trustees taken at its meeting Saturday morning. He also extended his appreciation to various groups and individuals for "their splendid cooperation during the past year."

The announcement of the retirement of Dr. Charles M. A. Stine, Wilmington, from the board due to ill health was announced as was the reelection of C. William Duncan, Philadelphia; Charles B. McCollough, Detroit; Richard C. Wetzel, Reading, and Amos E. Taylor, Washington, D. C.

Officers of the board elected were: Judge Hiram Keller, Doylestown, chairman; John S. Rice, Gettysburg, vice chairman; William Patrick, Philadelphia, secretary; and Arthur Hendley, Baltimore, assistant secretary. Paul Rhoads, Harrisburg, was elected Alumni Trustee to the board.

Salaries and recommendations for faculty increases effective September 1 were adopted by the Board, Dr. Langsam stated. He also announced the endorsement of three departments, Physics, Fine Arts and Sociology. He added the following information:

Budget Exceeds Million
For the first time in the history of Gettysburg College, the annual budget will total more than one million dollars — $1,011,000 he gave as the approximate total.

The new Christ chapel will be dedicated at Homecoming on October 17, and the new organ in the chapel, a gift of the Gettysburg Woman's League, will be dedicated during the League's annual convention on November 5.

Brua will be remodelled into a building for Fine Arts and Dramatic Arts and the board appointed a committee to begin plans for a new men's dormitory to house 350 students.

Dr. Langsam said the college closed the current year "in the black" for the operating budget. He detailed the cost of the new chapel at approximately $568,000 and the expense of the new section of the heating facilities as $55,000.

HUMPHREY SEES CHANCE FOR TAX BILL TO PASS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey said today chances are "very good" that Congress will extend the excess profits tax on business for six months as President Eisenhower has asked.

Humphrey's apparent optimism was not widely shared on Capitol Hill, where it appeared that nothing short of strong personal intervention by the President would save him from a likely political defeat on the issue.

Nearly three weeks have elapsed since the President asked for extension of the levy, which he concedes is a bad tax, but there has been no evident progress in the House Ways and Means Committee, which continues hearings today.

Blocked By Committee

Its chairman, Rep. Daniel Reed (R-NY), has insisted repeatedly his committee will not clear the extension. Administration lieutenants have voiced confidence the House and Senate will approve the extension if it comes up for debate, but they have done no more than hope the ways and means committee will clear it.

Tomorrow, Reed's committee is scheduled to act on an extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act. The chairman agreed to call the session,

SAYS U. S. HAS BEST AIR FORCE

SIoux CITY, Ia. (AP)—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, storm center of the administration's five billion dollar military budget cut, calls the U. S. Air Force the "most powerful" in the world today.

In an address to the Iowa State Bar Association Friday night, Wilson took apparent exception to the view given a Senate committee Thursday by Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, retiring Air Force chief of staff.

Vandenberg testified the proposed budget would give the U. S. a "second best" air force.

Wilson said: "While our Air Force is still not what we would like to have it, nor what it is going to be, I believe it is now the strongest, most powerful air force in the world today."

Wilson, he announced yesterday, only after receiving "airtight assurance of the White House, from the Senate and the House leadership that they will oppose any attempt which might be made to amend trade agreement legislation with an extension of the discriminatory and unfair excess profits tax."

The Reciprocal Trade Act, which gives the President authority to negotiate lower tariffs on foreign goods coming into the U. S. in return for trade concessions to the U. S., is due to expire Friday.

The excess profits tax is scheduled to die June 30, or three weeks from tomorrow. Eisenhower, in asking its extension, said the government needs the 800 million dollars involved. Reed not only wants it to expire on schedule, but to move up from Jan. 1 to July 1 a scheduled 10 per cent reduction in personal income taxes.

Humphrey, in a copyrighted interview with the magazine U. S. News and World Report published today, said "I hope and think" Congress will adopt in full the Eisenhower tax program, which calls for the personal income tax cut on Jan. 1.

In addition, it calls for indefinite postponement of reductions in corporation income and excise (sales) taxes due to take effect next April 1.

SYNGMAN RHEE UNVEILS OWN TRUCE PLANS

SEOUL (AP)—President Syngman Rhee has unveiled his own plan for ending the fighting in Korea. The South Korean executive called it a counter-proposal to an expected truce agreement "unacceptable" to his government.

Rhee said if his proposal is not accepted "we must be allowed to continue to fight."

The South Korean counter-proposal calls for withdrawal of both Communist and Allied troops from Korea with the understanding that U. S. aid will be "automatic and instantaneous" in event of any attack upon Korea.

Asks U. S. Forces

It also asked the U. S. to maintain its present air and naval forces in Korea and to supply arms, ammunition and logistical support to South Korea's armed forces.

A government spokesman said the plan was sent to President Eisenhower by Rhee about June 1 and that it represents South Korea's present position.

"We will stick to it," said the spokesman, Dr. Karl Hong Ki, director of Rhee's office of public information in Seoul.

Called "Death Warrant"

Two days ago, however, Rhee said in an emotional declaration that South Korea would accept the expected Allied-Communist truce agreement, although it would be South Korea's "death warrant."

But Rhee's ambassador in Washington and Karl insisted today South Korea will oppose the Allied truce offer.

PRO-AMERICAN PARTY IN ITALY HAILS BIG VOTE

By JAMES M. LONG

ROME (AP)—Late voters hurried today to choose among communism, right-wing nationalism and Christian democracy in the final hours of the bitter Italian general election. Premier Alcide de Gasperi's pro-American government coalition hailed the heavy vote as a sign of victory.

There were no major disorders, but Interior Minister Mario Scelba charged Communist rowdies with conducting organized "hunts" to prevent Roman Catholic nuns from voting. He said the Reds tried to bully the nuns out of voting or challenged their credentials.

NATO Plans At Stake

More than 20 million persons, about 70 per cent of Italy's 30,348,789 eligible voters, balloted yesterday.

By poll-closing time today, the turnout was expected to equal the 92.1 per cent which beat back the great Communist bid for power in 1948.

The first day's voting ran slightly behind 1948's.

At stake were the 590 seats in the Chamber of Deputies, 237 of the 243 Senate seats, and the decision whether to continue Italy along the NATO road for five more years.

FUGITIVES ARE CAUGHT

COLLEGEVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Two prisoners were captured in woods several hours after escaping from Eastern State Penitentiary while on a farm work detail on Friday.

Deputy Warden Charles G. Day said Jesse Taylor, 26, of Connelville, and Charles Fleckenstein, 56, of Philadelphia, surrendered to guards without a struggle in a wooded area near the prison.

Plane Explodes And Crashes Apartment

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—An Italian Air Force Mustang fighter plane exploded in the air Saturday and crashed into a Naples apartment house, killing at least one person and injuring several others.

The pilot, an Italian Air Force officer, bailed out. He suffered a broken leg in landing. He had taken off from Naples Airport only a few minutes before his plane blew up.

A nearby hospital said one person had been killed and seven injured, all occupants of the apartment building.

FOE OVERRUNS 3 U. N. POSTS

SEOUL (AP)—A beefed-up North Korean battalion ripped through a main line Allied position on the Eastern Front Saturday and held stubbornly against counterattacking South Koreans.

Some 750 to 1,000 Reds overran three ROK outposts ahead of the main line, then slammed through the line itself in four spots east of Luke's Castle, where bloody fighting has raged for a week, the Eighth Army said.

Another North Korean battalion tore into a South Korean outpost on Bloody Ridge on the East-Central Front. The ROKs met the attack ahead of the outpost but were hurled back in desperate hand-to-hand fighting, the Army said.

Two prongs of the attack on Luke's Castle area penetrated the main Allied line about 500 yards apart, caving in South Korean positions.

Pay Negotiations Resume On Tuesday

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pay negotiations resume Tuesday between the CIO United Steelworkers and U. S. Steel Corp. with only three weeks left before the union is free to strike.

Talks recessed on Friday after three straight days of secret bargaining.

Negotiators said they needed time to take care of previous commitments.

The union wants a general wage increase, amount unspecified, for 600,000 USW members in basic steel who now average between $2.06 and $2.16 an hour. About 170,000 of these are employed by U. S. Steel.

Negotiations with other producers are at a standstill pending outcome of talks with U. S. Steel, which usually sets the industry pattern. Under its contract, the union may strike July 1 if no agreement is reached.

Most Of World Approves Of Agreement For Exchange Of Prisoners Of War In Korea

By The Associated Press

News of agreement on exchange of war prisoners in Korea met with favorable reception in many world capitals today but fear was expressed in Southeast Asia that the truce expected shortly would only free the Communists for aggression elsewhere.

There was grave concern also over South Korea's vow to continue fighting and thus upset a cease-fire.

A U. S. official in Washington said the prisoners' agreement was the most encouraging news from Korea in some time. A Foreign Office spokesman in London said Britain "warmly welcomed" it. High government officials generally withheld comment pending formal confirmation from Penmenjom.

In Indochina, Premier Nguyen Van Tam of Vietnam said a truce would be "catastrophic" if serious steps are not taken to prevent aid to the Communist-led Vietminh. The U. S. is aiding the French with millions in military supplies in the seven-year war against the Reds there.

Wants To Go Home

The Allied men fighting the war had one question: "How soon can we go home?"

Other reaction included: LONDON — A Foreign Office spokesman said Britain is "making inquiries" to determine the stand of South Korea to the expected truce. It was apparent Britain and her commonwealth nations were disturbed over the possibility South Korea might upset any cease-fire arrangements. Britain was looking to the U. N. command for assurances this would not happen.

TAIPEH — Nationalist China's capital, fearful of Red aggression, took a pessimistic attitude. Newspapers said a truce under present proposals would give the Reds more breathing space for new attacks. Government officials were silent but obviously unhappy.

MONEY PRICES FALL

HONG KONG — The price of gold bars and silver dollars, which the Chinese buy when war threatens and sell when peace promises, went down. Commodities, especially items wanted in China, jumped.

SINGAPORE — Businessmen in this British crown colony, anxious to resume trade with Red China, were heartened by truce prospects. But throughout Southeast Asia there was a fear the Communists may move south if freed from fighting in the north.

NE DELHI — Pro-government newspapers hailed the truce prospects. The independent Times of India cautioned the U. N. against lowering its defenses. N. R. Pillai, secretary-general of the Indian Foreign Ministry, said in London "everyone welcomes" the agreement on exchange of prisoners.

In Other Areas

THE HAGUE — A Netherlands Foreign Office official said his government supports fully the Allied negotiators in Korea and developments justify the hope for an early truce.

JOHANNESBURG — South African officials said they welcomed prospect of an early truce. Officials estimated they had been spending over a million dollars a year to support South Africa's air squadron in Korea and hoped to eliminate this expense.

ATHENS — Prime Minister Alexander Papagos said the news from Korea was vindication of the U. N. effort and marked the beginning of developments which, it is hoped, will lead to peace.

BELGRADE — Yugoslavia's undersecretary for foreign affairs, Ales Bebler, said his government welcomes the agreement on prisoners. "We believe that this will open the road toward an armistice truce as a whole," he added.

Sweden Council Called

STOCKHOLM — Sweden's Foreign Relations Council will meet tomorrow to discuss the country's tasks in connection with a truce. Sweden has accepted participation in a neutral repatriation commission with Indian, Switzerland, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

NEW DELHI — V. K. Krishna Menon, member of the Indian delegation at the last U. N. General Assembly, was mentioned as Prime Minister Nehru's favored choice for chairman of the five-nation repatriation mission to serve in event of a truce.

UNITED NATIONS — Delegates generally hailed the agreement on prisoners as "wonderful" and expressed hope it would lead speedily to an armistice. They began planning for a session of the General Assembly, to be called as soon as a truce is signed, but no definite program of Assembly action was reported. Presumably the Assembly will try to lay down a policy line for the U. N. in the political conference called for by the armistice agreement.

HERSHEY, Pa. (P)—The title of Pennsylvania Rose Queen will go to one of 17 district winners from all over Pennsylvania at the Hershey Rose Festival to be held here on Friday.

The girls will compete for $1,400 in scholarship prizes, with the first prize valued at $1,000.

In 1884, Milwaukee's baseball team was a member of the Union Association. The club was known as the "Onions."

IKE NAMES 2 TO U. S. POSTS

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower today sent to the Senate nominations for one district judgeship and two U. S. attorneys in Pennsylvania.

They are: Joseph P. Willson of Smethport, Pa., to be U. S. district judge succeeding the late Owen M. Burns. Willson, 51, is a native of Bath, N. Y. He was a navy commander in World War II.

John W. McIlvaine, 46, of Washington, Pa., to be U. S. attorney for Western Pennsylvania, succeeding Edward C. Boyle, who is resigning. McIlvaine, an Air Force lieutenant colonel in World War II, has been assistant district attorney of Washington County.

J. Julius Levy, 62, Scranton, Pa., U. S. attorney for Middle Pennsylvania, succeeding Arthur A. McGuire, resigned. Levy formerly was counsel to the Pennsylvania Senate Investigating Committee.

The President also nominated: William F. Tompkins, 40, Newark, to be U. S. Attorney for New Jersey, succeeding Grover C. Richmond, resigned. Tompkins, formerly a member of the New Jersey Legislature, is associated with the Lum, Fairlie and Foster law firm. He is chairman of a committee set up by the Legislature to study narcotics laws.

SAYS FIRM WITH LOW BID LOST U. S. CONTRACT

WASHINGTON (P)—Rep. Kelley (D-Pa.) has asked Secretary of the Army Stevens why a gas mask contract was not awarded to a Pennsylvania firm even though it was low bidder.

Kelley said in a statement today that the contract was awarded to the Fall River, Mass., plant of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. instead of to the Pennsylvania Rubber Co. of Jeannette, Pa.

Kelley termed the award to Firestone "highly questionable" legally. He said the Jeannette firm has been producing gas masks for the Army for years "and was low bidder on the new job."

He said the contract was awarded to the Fall River plant, "despite the fact that the bid was $100,000 higher," on grounds that a telegram of intent to award the contract was legally binding. He said the telegram contained "false information" and that furthermore "it is my understanding that the Army has held in the past that such telegrams of intent have no legal force."

Kelley said he was "disturbed by reports that a former official of the Firestone company was a determining influence in the award" and that the awarding of the contract to Firestone "is in line with Secretary of Defense Wilson's new policy of concentrating defense orders with enormous corporations."

He charged that the action was based "more on politics than sound governmental practices." He said Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, "was extremely interested in having this job go to Fall River" and that "I am sure the Army would find it expedient to help the senator."

There was no immediate comment by Saltonstall.

TWO SPIES ARE SENT TO PRISON

WASHINGTON (P)—Otto Verber and Kurt Ponger, Austrian-born former GIs who became members of a Russian spy ring, were sentenced to prison today but received less than the maximum.

U. S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff sentenced Verber to 40 months to 10 years in prison and Ponger to five to 10 years.

Verber, 31, and Ponger, 39, pleaded guilty in mid-April to different counts of a two-count indictment linking them to a spy plot directed from the Russian embassy in Washington. Ponger was liable to a maximum sentence of 20 years and Verber to 10 years.

Yuri V. Novikov, second secretary of the Russian embassy, who was alleged to have directed the spy ring, was declared persona non grata and booted out of this country.

Locusts To Reach Peak This Week

HARRISBURG (P)—The State Department of Agriculture expects the insect commonly known as the 17-year locust to reach the height of its appearance in Pennsylvania early this week.

The department has received reports from 20 of the 35 counties in which the insects, technically known as cicadas, are expected to appear. An extensive survey is planned by the department's Bureau of Plant Industry later this week.

SEOUL ROCKED BY TWO BLASTS; ALL LIGHTS OUT

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

SEOUL (P)—Two blasts rocked Seoul tonight and an air raid alert was called immediately when a light, single-engine plane was heard circling overhead.

The explosions were near Seoul's burned-out capitol.

The first at 10:40 p. m., (8:40 a. m. EST) was in the area of President Syngman Rhee's green-roofed mansion several hundred yards north of the capitol.

The second blast, at 10:47, was near the main gate of the press billets, an equal distance west of the capitol. At least two guards were hurt there.

All City Lights Out

The explosions shook the area and lit the night sky with an intense white glare—almost as if the bombs were some type of heavy incendiary. The one outside the press building was still burning 10 minutes after it exploded.

Similar light planes—"Washing Machine Charlies"—have attacked Seoul at night in the past.

Associated Press Correspondent Forrest Edwards, who heard the plane, said it appeared three bombs were dropped.

He said he heard a third explosion near Rhee's quarters—either a new bomb or a secondary explosion caused by the first.

"MAD MAJOR" IN TOILS OF LAW

LONDON (P)—The law has caught up with "Mad Major" Christopher Draper, the enterprising 61-year-old salesman who piloted an airplane under 15 Thames bridges in the heart of London on May 5.

The law appeared at Draper's home today in the form of Chief Inspector Harry Morley of the Thames police division. The inspector could have talked about 15 bridges, but contented himself with serving summonses mentioning only four — Waterloo, Westminster, Barnes and Albert bridges.

Severe Penalties

The summonses alleged that the major flew an airplane in a dangerous manner. It was also charged that he flew an airplane at an altitude of less than 1,000 feet over a town, namely London.

Draper will appear in the Bow St. Police Court on July 5. He inquired about maximum penalties, and learned that each bright might cost him 200 pounds ($560), and that imprisonment for each could be six months. So the major hoped the police would forget permanently about the 11 other bridges with which the summonses failed to credit him.

Three Buildings Damaged By Fire

ROYALTON, Pa. (P)—A two-story warehouse and adjacent building were damaged by fire at this Susquehanna River town near the Olmsted Air Force base at Middletown over the week end.

Middletown and Olmsted firemen joined in the fight against the flames which started in a pile of tires.

The blaze was discovered by Aaron Peiffer, a brother of the owner of the property, Lloyd Peiffer.

WILL PROBE TANKER CRASH

WILMINGTON, Del. (P)—The U. S. Coast Guard said today it will investigate the collision of two oil tankers in Delaware Bay that caused damage estimated at 12 million dollars.

One man was killed in Saturday's pre-dawn crash. Three seamen still are missing. Coast Guard patrol boats searched the area without success.

Eighty-two other crewmen aboard the tankers Massachusetts and Phoenix leaped from the flaming vessels and either swam to shore or were pulled out of the water by rescue boats.

F. L. Judson, port engineer of the National Bulk Carriers, Inc., of New York, which owned both vessels, made the damage estimate.

Many Tourists Over Field For Weekend

More tourists, by more than 1,000, toured the Gettysburg Battlefield over the last weekend than during the Memorial Day period.

Near perfect weather, marred only by rain Sunday morning, brought 6,320 tourists to the field over the weekend, as compared to 5,265 during the rainy Memorial Day weekend.

Saturday a total of 3,090 visitors were on the field, 2,407 in private cars and 682 in 13 buses. Sunday the totals were 3,161 in private cars and 69 in two buses. John Riddle, National Cemetery superintendent, who keeps the tally of tourist visitation, said the peak season for buses, which begins in April, likely will taper off during the week. While many buses tour the field with adult groups during the summer, the peak bus visitation is by school groups, which come from all parts of the country to tour the field during the closing months of school.

The last of such buses usually visit here during the second week of June.

Lightning

wet down the walls. A number of farmers living in the area gathered Sunday to clean up the debris and build a temporary shelter for the dairy cattle on part of the walls of the burned barn. The walls were still so hot they were unable to place new lumber until they had been "cooled off" by the firemen.

Mr. Starnes said the buildings and the cattle were covered by insurance.

Lightning Damage Week Ago

Lightning which followed wires into the house disabled an electric refrigerator, blew out several lights and fuses in addition to disrupting telephone service.

A week ago lightning also entered the house and disrupted phone and electric service temporarily.

Fire police and state police directed traffic during the fire. The fire department's short wave radio was used to direct state police on another call. Conewago Creek had overflowed its banks and flooded the highway. Several cars became stalled and a message was telephoned to state police substation. It was relayed to state police at the fire, who were out of their own radio-equipped car directing traffic.

WILSON SAYS U. S. WILL HAVE BEST AIR FORCE

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (P)—Secretary of Defense Wilson said today the United States will continue to have the "best air force" in the world despite controversial cut-backs in the Air Force budget.

Wilson told a Senate Appropriations Subcommittee headed by Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.):

"I assure you . . . most emphatically that we are not going to have the second-best air force. . . . We are going to continue to have the best air force."

Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, outgoing Air Force chief of staff, spent three days before Ferguson's subcommittee last week assailing a five billion dollar cut the Eisenhower administration has made in the Air Force budget recommended last January by former President Truman. Vandenberg indicated it would produce only a "second-best" air force.

Wilson testified at a televised public hearing.

He told the senators he was not the first secretary of defense "that has had to hold down the extravagant expenditures proposed by a military department."

Wilson said there has been "waste and inefficiency" in the armed services and promised to cut this to a minimum.

The Truman Air Force budget called for new appropriations of 16 billion dollars and a December, 1955, target of 143 wings—30 to 75 planes per wing.

The new budget reduced the appropriation request by five billions and set a December, 1955, target, of 120 wings, with from 110 to 114 "combat ready" wings by July, 1954.

GETS 3 MONTHS FOR VAGRANCY

Walter Pavlock, no fixed address, was sentenced by Justice of the Peace John H. Basore this morning to three months in jail on a vagrancy charge.

Chief of Police Jack Bartlett said the unusually long sentence on the vagrancy charge had been asked by him as a first step in "breaking up the congregation of drunks in Gettysburg." Bartlett claimed that the "town has been plagued for years by men who come here only to get drunk. And apparently a few days in jail, which is the most that can be given on a disorderly charge, does not deter them from becoming drunk and disorderly again and again."

Bartlett claimed Pavlock, "has a long record of becoming abusive and disorderly in the borough" and said he had told him to "stay out of Gettysburg" after his sentence had been completed at the jail. Pavlock, Bartlett said, had been abusive when arrested Sunday on Carlisle St., where police were called when he allegedly was "pounding on doors" in the second block of that street. Bartlett said Pavlock ran from him when he approached and then became "excessively abusive" when caught. The police chief claimed Pavlock had come from a "party" in which five men drank 12 cans of "canned heat."

Trailer And Auto Crash Here Today

Damage totaled $150 when a house trailer and an auto collided at 9:50 o'clock this morning at the intersection of Baltimore St. and Steinwehr Ave.

Borough police said William H. Evans, Muncy R. 2, driving a car with the trailer attached, had driven into the center lane to stop for a traffic light. Dania A. Ross, Washington, D. C., was driving in the right hand lane, to pass into Steinwehr Ave from Baltimore St. on the arrow signal. Just as Ross was attempting to pass Evans, the light changed and Evans drove from the center lane to enter Steinwehr Ave. The rear of his trailer clipped the fender of the Ross car.

SAYS JESUS IS

of Thee," and following the singing of the college hymn, "Blessing and Honor," the benediction was given by Rev. Korte. Miss Julia A. Yost was organist.

"In my own small way, I am one of those men who believes profoundly that our salvation as individuals and as a world begins and ends with Jesus of Nazareth," Rev. Fisher, who is now pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, Lancaster, said. "Realistic self-acceptance is relatively rare among students; it is not common among adults. Very few of us ever manage to arrive at a sound evaluation of ourselves. This matter of self-acceptance involves an honest appraisal of one's talents and limitations."

"Any effort to hold this world together must begin with the honest effort to accept one's self and to hold fast to his real self. And that is the kind of enterprise which demands that we accept Christ's offer to be our co-partner."

"In this real world where good and evil exist side by side, where the good people are frequently evil, and the evil people are occasionally good, mature minds do not expect a sudden transformation of men and affairs. It is our mature acceptance of the present historical situation which leads some of us to support the United Nations, to share liberally in helping western Europe to get on its feet, and to foster technical assistance in the Middle East and Far East."

"Of course, with this realistic acceptance of our historical situation, we need very much to develop the conviction that tomorrow, under God, can be made better than yesterday ever was. To look nostalgically into the past, to pine for days gone by, is a terrible sin which robs man of his initiative, saps his energy and kills his hope. Every contributory life feeds on the conviction that tomorrow, under God, will be better. Any alternative is positively self-defeating and socially destructive."

"The historian suggests that one basic reason for the decline and fall of Rome was a 'failure of nerve' among the people. This in itself roots first in the soul where faith and hope have died."

"We are not calling for human optimism or sentimental faith. We are calling for the strong hope that roots in God and sends - an out to cooperate with God. Without the hope that roots itself in God, every one of us falters under the pressures of life and begins to look backward rather than struggle onward and upward."

"God's World"

"If we really want to hold this world together we must get the kind of faith that recognizes that this is God's world and that God's principles are ultimately sound. Inside these hallowed walls we have discovered that communism is a false ideology, but most of us have not come to realize that communism is a consuming faith in things material and that only a consuming faith in things spiritual will overmatch it and transform it."

"We are not a spiritual-minded people and our world-wide struggle appears to most of us to be a political and military struggle, and because of this we are losing this world-wide, age-old struggle for the souls of men. We in America hold fast to the forces of godliness, but we do not demonstrate very strongly the power of godliness."

"There is not a ghost of a chance that we can hold this world together and ourselves in it without the practical faith that all things belong to God and that His laws cannot be broken. And it is not easy to get a faith like that, nor to hold it."

10 Killed When Tornado Wipes Out Nebraska Farm House

ARCADIA, Neb. (AP)—A tornado wiped out a farm near Arcadia late yesterday and brought instant death to 10 persons enjoying a Sunday family reunion there.

The twister was one of at least five which hop-scotched over widely scattered sections of Nebraska. Dozens of farms were damaged or destroyed, communications lines were downed and several persons were injured, at least one of them seriously. The tornadoes largely bypassed towns and cities.

Hit Six Farms

In this Central Nebraska area, the tornado hit at least six farms. The deaths were from the Mads Madsen farm five miles east of Arcadia. Assembled for their customary Sunday get-together were the Madsdens, three children and five grandchildren.

They apparently were in the house and never knew what hit them.

Bodies Mangled

So vicious was the tornado that bodies were mangled and scattered as far as half a mile.

"There wasn't a stick of anything left on the place," said one visitor to the scene. Machinery, animals and buildings were "tossed around like feathers," said another.

The dead were Mr. and Mrs. Madsen, about 60; their son, Virgil Madsen, Central City, Neb.; their daughter, Mrs. Dolly Johnson, and her two children, Kenneth, 12, and Barbara, 10; and another daughter of the Madsdens, Mrs. Jack Witty, and her three children, Patty, 8; Thelma, 12, and Gary, 10.

Cop Revives Babe; Nearly Drowned

NEW YORK (AP)—An hysterical mother pulled her unconscious 8-month-old daughter from a bathtub and ran screaming into the street.

The cries by Mrs. Lucretia Rodriguez attracted Patrolman Thomas Sommers, who grabbed the baby from the mother's arms and gave the child artificial respiration.

In this way Sommers yesterday saved the life of tiny Maria Rodriguez, who nearly drowned when her mother left her in a bathtub and stepped out of the room momentarily.
